1.Introduction

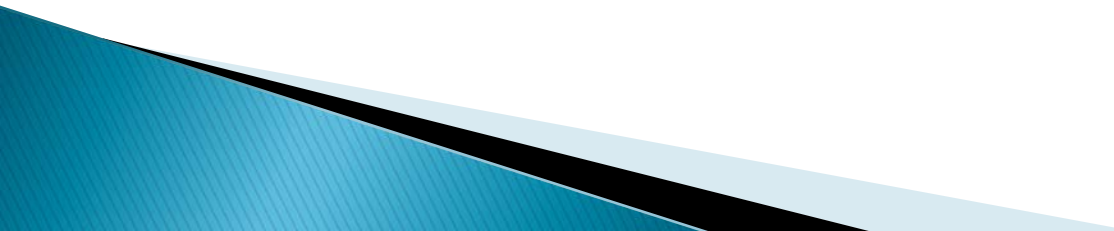

- ▶ The non-governmental organization (NGO) is a nonprofit citizen's volunteer group organized at an area, a nation or an international level.
 - ▶ The NGO handles specific problems such as human rights, environment, and welfare.

2.Hypotheses

Our research question

- How do Japanese students think about NGOs?

Our expectation

- They are not interested in NGOs although they know about it a little. For they live wealthily and have had nothing to do with NGOs.

5. Discussion

- ▶ They have some interests, but they don't intend to act.
 - ▶ We think many students spend school life hard such as studying, club activities, and so on. so they can't afford to do other things.

6. Conclusion

- ▶ Japanese students have some interests in NGOs.
 - ▶ Most students haven't done anything as NGOs' members.
 - ▶ We think they should take part in volunteer activities if possible.
